

Company Profile

H.Wilson Alfriston Ltd. was founded in 1825 and has traded in the South East region for over 190 years.

In 1978 the company was acquired by Rodney Smith who expanded the business from a general building company to a business that now serves a diverse range of sectors. In 2007, Tony Hayes and Luke Twelftree, two long standing employees of H.Wilson, joined the Board of Directors and between them they now manage the companies' responsibilities with an annual turnover of £4 Million.

Our management structure allows us to be flexible, becoming fully engaged with each client and their design team as early in the process as possible. We gain a better understanding of the project and the client's requirements, this personalised, tried and tested approach helps us ensure that each project makes a positive start and progresses with all team members working together towards the same goal.

Our aim is not only to meet the client's expectations but to exceed them to provide a first class delivery of their construction project with a combination of speed, quality and cost satisfaction, in all aspects of the project.

The directors realise the importance of every project to the client and involve themselves personally within them, guaranteeing their commitment at all times. We have a fully inclusive proactive training programme and all staff are trained in their field to the highest standards and the latest current regulations.

The company has the resources to supply CDM co-ordination and P402 building surveying asbestos sampling, advising clients/designers on all matters of health and safety, CDM regulations and asbestos issue's. All our management team are all qualified to IOSH standard.
